MERCHANTS FIND BIG PROFITS IN SUBURBAN TRADE

Autocar Delivery Car Brings Outlying Towns Close to City Stores

FREE DELIVERY SERVICE

All Customers Now Served
Daily by Means of Swift
Motor Truck

How to keep pace with the rapid growth of suburban population has been a perplexing question with city merchants. Customers, moving into the country, still want daily deliveries of purchased goods, and it is impossible to reach them all with horses. The solution of the problem has been found by hundreds of local merchants in the Autocar Motor Truck, made at Ardmore, Pa. Users of this popular delivery car are reaping a rich harvest from suburban trade, and building up business in sections which horses and wagons cannot cover.

"Package-stamp" deliveries, by which articles were formerly sent out to suburban railroad stations, have been eliminated by Autocar owners. They now deliver their goods right at the purchaser's door anywhere within a radius of thirty miles from the store. Not only do they serve their old customers better, but the improved system is bringing them new patronage every day.

Following are some of the towns which Autocar owners have well within their delivery territory:

EVERYBODY'S DOIN' IT!—By T. E. Powers

WHY PRESIDENT SIGNED TARIFF

By CHARLES D. HILLES,
Chairman of the Republican National Committee.

I have been asked by the President not to vote the Payne tariff bill.

President Taft signed the Payne tariff bill because he believed that it would lower tariff rates, because he believed that it would make him a tariff man, and because he believed that it would make him a tariff man.

Mr. Taft pronounced it "the best tariff bill the party had ever passed" because it contained provisions for the creation of the Tariff Board; because it made provision for a maximum and minimum tariff which would make him a tariff man; because it made provision for a maximum and minimum tariff which would make him a tariff man.

GOV. OSBORNE WILL VOTE FOR ROOSEVELT

SALT RITE MARIE, Mich., Aug. 9.—Gov. Osborn will vote for Roosevelt in the presidential election, according to a statement made today by a Republican official.

MOOSE CANNASS STARTS AT ONCE

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Bull Moose candidate for the Presidency, still full of the enthusiasm that marked such a high place at the Chicago convention, came back to New York today on the Twentieth Century Limited.

The Colonel drove to the Outlook office to attend to several matters that have accumulated since he has been in Chicago and returned to his home at Oyster Bay in the afternoon.

Colonel Roosevelt will invade the South and West. Governor Johnson, the Iowa Republican, will swing through the East. Every state, it is to be expected, will have its own campaign.

The campaign is to start at once. The campaign is to start at once. The campaign is to start at once. The campaign is to start at once.

100 REVERE VOTERS HEED BULL MOOSE CALL AND ORGANIZE

One hundred voters of Revere heard the call of the Bull Moose and in the town hall organized as the Progressive of Revere.

Charles E. Clift, as permanent chairman, said the two most important issues are the labor question and the unequal distribution of money. Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, as the Progressive of Revere, said the two most important issues are the labor question and the unequal distribution of money.

MAYOR OPENS SENATE FIGHT

MAYOR VITALE'S campaign for the United States Senate is on in earnest. He fired his first gun at a rally in the Danvers Town Hall, today noon.

The Mayor said that on the tariff to be a "simple proposition." He said that if elected to the United States Senate he would work for the increase of the New England overcoat market.

Mayor Fitzgerald urged the support of Governor Wilson for President. He returned Governor Wilson's record and announced the laws he had forced upon the people of New Jersey.

The Mayor told members of the Democratic state committee that in the day after talking with prominent Republicans and Democrats he doubted if the electoral vote of a single state would be given to President Taft.

He quoted statements made to him by Louis Brandeis and followers of Roosevelt of national prominence. He said the best advice he could give was that the Progressive party was to be the success of the Republican party.

He said that the Progressive party would not be the success of the Republican party. He said that the Progressive party would not be the success of the Republican party.

Will Invite Wilson.
At the request of Humphrey O'Sullivan, of Lowell and Paul Harnett of Lawrence, the State Committee agreed to send out invitations to the Democratic people who the two men had met at Clinton, Mass. on August 24, Democrats of Essex, Middlesex and Suffolk counties.

Mr. O'Sullivan and Mr. Harnett were the Democratic Mayors of New Hampshire cities, the former of Lowell and the latter of Lawrence. They were the only city and town officials in Massachusetts to be invited to the State Committee.

DAINTY MONNA DELZA'S
The old dilemma of the famous Paris belle, who was asked to marry the man she loved or the man she didn't love, is being played out in a new way.

DEATHS
HARRY E. PHIPPS, for many years editor of Cambridge and other towns connected with the State House of Representatives, died at his home in Wellesley Hills. He was born in Boston in 1846 and was married to Miss Ellen Richardson.

MRS. HENRIETTA A. WILCOX of Waltham, died at the Beverly Hotel as the result of a stroke. She leaves a son, Mr. W. H. Wilcox.

DR. HENRY F. BORDEN, one of the best known physicians in Brighton, died at his home in Brighton. He was married to Mrs. Mary Borden.

JOSEPH DAVENPORT, eighty-three, a founder of the House of St. George, died at his home in Boston.

WILSON FAVORS GREATER NAVY

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Though he did not discuss the question of a greater navy in his speech of acceptance at Sagitt on Wednesday, it can be said with authority that Governor Woodrow Wilson is heartily in favor of such a program. Whether he favors one or two battleships a year is known only to himself.

The Governor, who came to New York to all for a campaign portrait, explained that the reason he did not wish to seem to interfere in any way with the action of a Congress over which he has no control, neither does he desire to embarrass the Democratic members of Congress by anything he might say at this time.

Governor Wilson, however, will discuss the plank on the navy at great length in one of his speeches later on in the campaign. He will also discuss the various other questions omitted from his speech of acceptance.

Although he has already been before the camera three hours, the Governor will not again take after him in the campaign. He will be in the city tonight or early tomorrow morning.

The Governor met the newspaper correspondents at the St. Regis. He was asked about the plank in the Baltimore platform to which he made no reference in his speech of acceptance.

"Simulation in that case does not mean opposition," he said quickly. "The subjects omitted did not happen to come within the theme of my speech. I merely took the heart of the matter. I will discuss every plank in the Baltimore platform in the course of the campaign. You I wanted to save the ammunition for the campaign."

"But the navy is an apt plank. I did not discuss that simply because I did not want to interfere in matters under consideration by the House. I would not discuss the navy at this time, but I will certainly take it up later."
